Key Vocabulary

Field sketches and photographs

This is when a snapshot of a landscape is taken, either with a camera or by drawing. Field sketches and photographs provide a good reminder of what a place is like.

Maps

These can be either hand-drawn or sourced from somewhere like the internet. Maps give spatial information about places. Satellite images and GIS maps are types of map that can be used for fieldwork.

OS map symbols

OS map symbols are used to represent types of information, or places on a map.
